

America Saves Week is February 21 – February 28, 2010.
Go to www.americasavesweek.org and learn how you and your organization can participate.

Invitation for Council for Economic Education Capitol Hill Reception

The Council for Economic Education's (CEE) invites you to a reception on Capitol Hill in recognition of the importance of economic and financial education in our nation's schools. The reception will be held in conjunction with the Council for Economic Education /National Association of Economic Educators /Global Association of Teachers of Economics 2009 Annual Conference, which brings together over 500 educators, teachers, and supporters for this great cause.

The CEE envisions a world in which people are empowered through economic and financial literacy to make informed and responsible choices throughout their lives as consumers, savers, investors, workers, citizens, and participants in our global economy. CEE programs reach more than 150,000 K-12 teachers and over 15 million students in the United States and in more than 30 other countries.

We hope you can join us on the evening of October 7th, to meet and talk with other supporters, including Members of Congress, key individuals from the Department of Education, Treasury, educators, CEE Board members and philanthropic partners, and other invited guests.

- What: CEE Reception on Capitol Hill
- When: Wednesday, October 7 from 5:30 pm - 7:00pm
- Where: Rayburn House Office Building, Gold Room #2168 (Entrance on Independence Ave.)

We look forward to seeing you on the evening of the 7th. Please rsvp to Ms. Naheed Elyasi, CEE Director of Communications, at nelyasi@councilforeconed.org or 212-730-1064.

This reception is in compliance with House and Senate Ethics Rules.