Two PBS Specials - Wednesday, September 9, 2009

September 9th, most PBS stations will air two new specials that address financial literacy issues. Check your local PBS station for times in your area.

First, Sesame Workshop will present "Families Stand Together: Feeling Secure in Tough Times," a program designed to help families with young children communicate during time of economic insecurity. The program is hosted by Al Roker, Deborah Roberts, and Elmo; featuring our friend Jean Chatzky. http://www.sesameworkshop.org/newsandevents/pressreleases/families_stand_together/

"Families Stand Together" will be followed by "Your Life, Your Money" produced by Jump$art national partner, WNED Buffalo/Toronto, and hosted by Donald Faison, star of "Scrubs." Your Life, Your Money is aimed at young adults who want to get their financial lives on track. It features a number of financial experts, including our friends Michelle Singletary and Beth Kobliner. <http://www.pbs.org/your-life-your-money/>

Each of these websites will offer ongoing financial education resources.
