Independent Evaluators Say Playing The Stock Market Game™ Boosts Achievement in Math and Financial Literacy

Eagerly awaited results from a rigorous evaluation study conducted by Learning Point Associates with a grant from the FINRA Foundation show that students who play The Stock Market Game outperform their peers in mathematics and financial literacy. According to the independent evaluation team, the gains are substantial at the elementary, middle, and high school levels. In addition, teachers reported that the program influenced their own financial practices.
