

March 26, 2009

Salisbury at Brookings Pension Event March 27

EBRI President and CEO Dallas Salisbury will be a featured speaker at a pension forum being sponsored by the Brookings Institution and the Social Science Research Council (SSRC) this Friday, March 27, at Brookings, in Washington DC.

The event is free but registration is required. Information is online at www.brookings.edu/events/2009/0327_pensions.aspx

EVENT SUMMARY: On March 27, the Brookings Institution and the Social Science Research Council (SSRC) will host a forum exploring the effects of privatization on pension security and the ability of Americans to plan for old age. The event marks the release of Pensions, Social Security, and the Privatization of Risk, the third volume in the “Privatization of Risk” book series (SSRC and Columbia University Press, 2009). After the program, panelists will take audience questions

WHEN: Friday, March 27, 2009, 9:00 AM to 11:30 AM

WHERE: Saul/Zilkha Rooms, The Brookings Institution, 1775 Massachusetts Ave., NW, Washington, DC

CONTACT: Brookings Office of Communications, events@brookings.edu, 202/797-6105

PR #833