

Health Care Reform: Where We Are, How Employers Might Respond

© 2009 Towers Perrin

Health care reform is coming — and will bring significant short- and long-term challenges for employers

- Reform has significant implications for employers, individuals, insurers, health care providers and others
- For employers in particular:
  - Short-term challenges include understanding the legislation and estimating its impact on the organization and others involved with the health care system
  - Long-term challenges include managing compensation and benefit strategy in a new environment

Shared/similar provisions in the two current bills: Potential for final legislation — and triggers for employer action

	Senate H.R. 3590 Awaits vote by full Senate	House H.R. 3962 Passed Nov 7, 200 9
Individual mandate	✓	✓
Individual and small group market reform	✓	✓
Low- and middle-income premium subsidies	✓	✓
Health insurance exchanges	✓	✓
Standard benefit packages	✓	✓
Employer pay or play mandate	✓ ("free rider")	✓ (8% of employer's average wages)
Cap health FSAs at $2,500 per year	✓	✓
Public option	✓	✓
Tax employers on 'high-cost' plans	√ (40%)	No
New taxes on high income individuals	✓ (Medicare payroll tax)	✓ (Income tax surcharge)

Employers face costs, risks and opportunities

Costs and Risks

- Increased enrollment in employersponsored plans
- Penalties for employees who fail to enroll in employer coverage
- Consequences of pay-or-play decisions
- Tax cap/excise tax on "high cost" plans
- Increased charges by insurers/medical suppliers to recoup assessments
- Cost shifting due to reduced Medicare payments to providers
- Reduced government subsidy for Medicare Advantage plans
- P&L impact of change in RDS tax treatment
- "Vested" retiree health benefits
- New reporting requirements (tax cap, W2)

Opportunities

- Possible benefit reduction/redesign for active or inactive employees and/or dependents to offset cost increases or change strategy
- Reduction in cost shifting due to uncompensated care
- Effect of Medicare payment reforms addressing quality of care and comparative effectiveness research
- Potential reinsurance program for employer-sponsored pre-65 coverage
- Reduced need for employer role in retiree medical (e.g., improved pre-65 access in private market, Part D benefit enhancements)

Sizing up the impact (example) Excise tax on high cost plans: Efficient plans would have an edge

Family Rates for Combined Coverages (e.g., Medical, Dental, Vision, FSA)

*Tax cap assumes future index of 4% Medical trend 8%, dental 5%, HRA/FSA/HSA 3% Source: Towers Perrin 2010 Health Care Cost Survey

How will employers respond? Towers Perrin pulse survey results

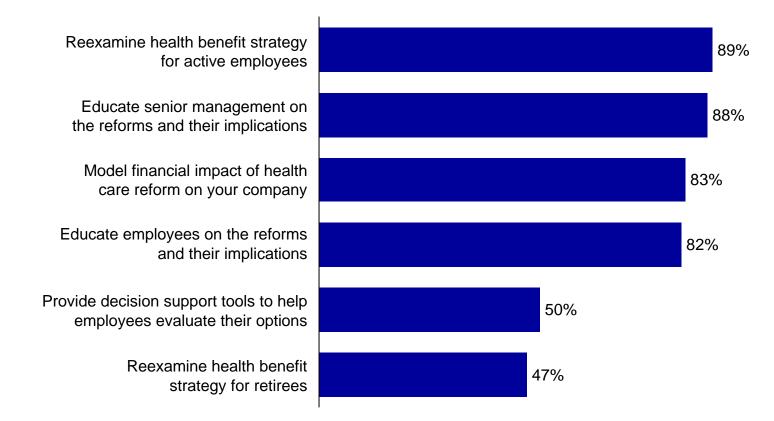

Strategy	<ul> <li>Nearly all respondents expect to reexamine their health benefit strategies for active employees</li> <li>Half expect to reevaluate their health care strategies for retirees; options for dealing with retiree medical may expand under reform</li> </ul>
Cost	<ul> <li>Companies are struggling to balance cost and talent management needs</li> <li>Respondents will act to avoid cost increases due to reform</li> <li>Despite sensitivity to costs, respondents express strong views on the importance of workforce health to business success</li> </ul>
Pay or Play?	<ul> <li>The proposed employer pay-or-play mandate draws mixed reactions</li> <li>41% see the business impact as neutral</li> <li>47% see a negative impact on business</li> <li>Some companies would consider dropping their company-sponsored health care plans if cost-efficient alternatives were available</li> </ul>
Other Reform Issues	<ul> <li>Employers are generally positive about reform provisions that would encourage research on effectiveness of alternative treatments</li> <li>Respondents are positive about potential insurance reforms</li> <li>Respondents believe that reform as currently proposed will not influence the consumer behaviors that drive costs</li> </ul>

Source: Towers Perrin Health Care Reform 2009: Leading Employers Weigh In — Pulse Survey Report, September 2009.

© 2009 Towers Perrin

Employers expect to reexamine their health benefit strategies, educate leaders and employees

Employer Actions in Response to Passage of Health Care Reform Legislation (Percent Responding Very Likely/Likely)

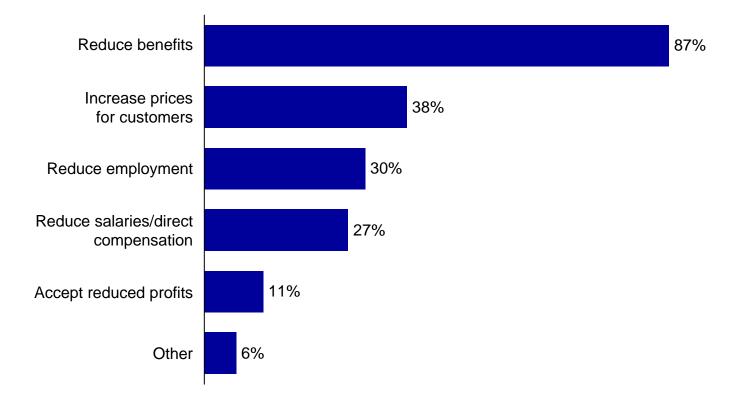

Source: Towers Perrin Health Care Reform 2009: Leading Employers Weigh In — Pulse Survey Report, September 2009.

© 2009 Towers Perrin

Employers will take a variety of actions to avoid cost impact

Employer Actions If Health Care Reform Increases Employer Costs (Percent Responding Very Likely/Likely)

Source: Towers Perrin Health Care Reform 2009: Leading Employers Weigh In — Pulse Survey Report, September 2009.

Employer commitment to workforce health is likely to remain strong

Would your company sponsor wellness and health promotion programs if you no Workforce health is longer offered medical benefits? 96% 1% important to our business success 11%: 3% Unlikely Health benefits are an 2% 96% important component of our 28%: 61%: reward portfolio Not sure Likely 2% Our health benefits give us 87% 9% 4% important opportunities to influence workforce health Agree Neither agree Disagree nor disagree

Context for Reform: The Going-In Proposition for Health Benefits

Source: Towers Perrin Health Care Reform 2009: Leading Employers Weigh In — Pulse Survey Report, September 2009.