

Anne F. Ackerley, Managing Director, is head of BlackRock's Retirement Group, bringing together the defined contribution and retirement insurance businesses. Ackerley oversees the group's development and distribution of strategies and services – serving over 80,000 retirement plans, ultimately reaching more than 40 million Americans.

Since joining BlackRock in 2000, she has held various leadership positions, including Chief Marketing Officer. Ackerley is a member of BlackRock's Global Operating Committee, U.S. and Canada Executive Committee, Philanthropy Board, and Retirement Committee for the BlackRock Retirement Plan. She is a co-founder of BlackRock's Women's Network and Financial Inclusion Network.

Ackerley has written and spoken extensively on retirement readiness and women's leadership. A three-time honoree on Barron's "100 Most Influential Women in U.S. Finance" list, Ackerley was named to Forbes' 50 over 50 list in 2022 and Yahoo Finance's "100 Women Executives" list in 2019. She was also honored for her outstanding leadership in financial services by the Women's Bond Club. Ackerley is a member of the Advisory Board for the Aspen Institute Leadership Forum on Retirement Savings and the World Economic Forum Working Group on the Longevity Economy. She also serves as a trustee of the Mosaic Mental Health Association.

Ackerley earned a BA degree, magna cum laude and Phi Beta Kappa, in economics from Harvard College, and an MBA degree from Harvard Business School.
