

2023 Workplace Wellness Survey

Focus on Caregiving

In its 4th year, the Workplace Wellness Survey turns its attention to the challenges faced by workers who are caregivers of parents, spouses, or children with special needs.

The survey will compare workers with their caregiving counterparts when it comes to workplace financial wellness, including debt and emergency savings assistance, voluntary benefits, mental health, worker satisfaction with benefits, work-life balance, and flexible work arrangements.

As a sponsor of the Workplace Wellness Survey your organization will:

- Obtain comprehensive survey results—including underlying data!
- Have input into the study and get key questions answered.
- Be able to use findings in marketing and public relations efforts.
- Get specialized breakouts of key target markets.
- Be featured in survey reports, webinars, and articles as a thought leader.
- Preview findings in depth with researchers.
